Several Deaths of Well-Known People Re- | Cheerful Outlook for an Improvement in Good Templars' Meeting and the Business Transacted - Local Notes of General and Especial Interest.

The wife of Sonny Hunter, a well-known resident of this section of the city, died suddenly night before last, without medical attendance, at her residence, 3712 Prospect avenue. The coroner was notified this morning, as no death certificate could be obtained. Death is supposed to be due to natural causes. The woman up to within three weeks ago was at a hospital, and returned home, since which time she has been without medical attendance. John P. Brenner, who lives on the south side of the canal, a short distance from the Free bridge, died quite suddenly last evening, shortly after 10 o'clock, of what is supposed to have been heart trouble. The deceased had been complaining of pains in the region of his heart for some days in the region of his heart for some days past, though there was no physician present when he expired, and the coroner was accordingly notified. The deceased was employed at Arlington cemetery, and had charge of the warehouse of the Independent Ice Company, near the Aqueduct bridge. He leaves a widow and several children.

bridge. He leaves a widow and several children. Miss Thomas, the sister of the wife of Rev. Dr. Hammond, the pastor of Congress Street M. P. Church, died last evening at the church parsonage on 31st street. Good Templars.

The regular quarterly session of the local order of Good Templars convened at Stohlman's Hall, on N street, last evening, at which considerable business of interest to the members of the order in the city was transacted. All of the lodges of the city were represented, and Sergt. John Daly of the fourth police precinct called the meet-ing to order. The initiation of twenty-one members to the District Lodge followed. and delegates were elected to the Grand Loage. The delegates are Sergt. Daly and Arthur W. Campbell, with J. C. Sherier and Marion Gilbert as alternates. Rescue Lodge, No. 5, was awarded the banner for the quarter for making the best showing. The reports of the lodges showed a gratifying increase in the membership of the or ganization in the District. Philodemic Society.

Mr. John W. Corbett, S. J., professor in Latin, Greek and English at Georgetown University, has been elected to the presidency of the Philodemic Society of the college, to succeed the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Carroll Boone, S. J. The society, is increasing at a good rate, and society, is increasing at a good rate, and already there is considerable rivalry to determine the speakers in the annual debate for the handsome Merrick gold medal, the value of which is placed at $100. The debate for the medal will not come off until some time next year, most likely in February, but during the intervening time the members of the society debate on various subjects, this evening being a regular night. subjects, this evening being a regular night at which the silver question will be brought up for settlement.

Ham-ilton and Mrs. Mary S. Gist were greeted by Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Vought has been acquainted with the President for a num-ber of years, and there was a half hour spent very pleasantly at the White House.

Disorderly Conduct.

William Parnell, a young colored man, with his head entirely swathed in bandages, was in the Police Court today as defendant in a case of disorderly conduct. According to the testimony, Parnell entered the Philadelphia House, on Pennsylvania avenue, last evening, threw a man down and beat the head of another against the bar. Parnell was ejected, and, it was stated, he rarnell was ejected, and, it was stated, he indulged in profanity on the sidewaik. He was thereupon placed under arrest. Several witnesses declared that the defendant did not make use of profanity, but Judge Kimball thought otherwise, and imposed fine of $10.

It was stated that Parnell would prose-

Streets.

An Old Offender in the Tolls - Local

Notes From Down the River.

The Star has been much complimented on its agitation of the street improvement question, and it now appears as if good rreeting of the Business Men's League President Harlow was instructed to appoint a committee of business men to act jointly with the city committee on streets. The members of the league are of the opinion that this is the easiest way to accomplish street improvements. When these committees get together it is hoped that they will devise some systematic method of making good streets-it has been suggested that it would be well to improve one street at a time-commencing, of course, with King street, which is very rough.

Burnett Again in Trouble. Richard Burnett is again in the hands of the law. This time he is charged with selling liquor on Sunday and without a license. Burnett is a well-known character in police circles, he having been arrested and convicted upon more charges than any one person in the city. He has been fined at least twenty times during the past two years for selling liquor on Sunday. His place of business is near the stone bridge on Duke street. About a year ago Judge Norton of the corporation court revoked his license for violating the Sunday liquor law, but it is said that he has continually been in the liquor business ever since. On Monday night last Burnett accosted Officer Knight on Upper King street, and in language most vile took the officer to task for not protecting him or his business. He was arrested and taken to the station house and fined $10, in default of which he went to jail, but yesterday he succeeded in went to jail, but yesterday he succeeded in raising the money and secured his release. If he is found guilty upon this charge it will be some time before he will again be at liberty, unless he pays his fine, as the penalty is from $100 to $500. There is also caplas issued by the corporation court for a fine and costs for selling liquor on Sunder!" "Police!" were heard on South Royal street. Officers Deane and Arrington hastened to the scene, when it was found that a colored girl named Julia Harris had uttered the cries. It appears that a young regro man who boards at the home of the Harris woman owed a small board bill, and was in the act of moving his effects, when the woman attempted to stop him from do-ing so. He assaulted her, and she ran into the street yelling, more frightened than hurt. A crowd of about 300 persons were attracted to the seche by the giri's cries. Warrants have been issued for the parties.

Ran Away From Home.

Chief of Police Webster this morning received a letter from William H. Taylor, York, Pa., requesting him to keep a lookout for his son, John Taylor, aged sixteen years, who ran away from his home in company with a tramp named Harry Raffenberger. The boy is described as being about five feet tall, wearing a black coat and pants, no vest, outing shirt, brown cap and a pair of tan shoes, with patches on them. His father says that he is apt to be

The jail inspectors, Messrs. Gardner L. Boothe, C. W. Moore and Dr. Wm. R. Purvis, yesterday made the quarterly inspection of the city jail. They found the jail in good condition, only a few slight im-provements being needed. There are now thirty-nine prisoners in the jail.

Brevities. Jack Maston, while rigging a boat yesterday, fell overboard. He was fished out by friends. Wm. Humphries, while engaged in laying gas mains, was overcome by gas yesterday.

He recovered shortly. Mrs. John S. Barbour of Culpeper is the guest of Mrs. George Drewiz, on South Co-The Hotel Fleischmann was sold yester-day to Mr. J. H. Fry of Washington. Mr. Fleischmann will, however, run the hotel.

WILL INVESTIGATE. Alleged Cases of Imposition Practiced on Dispensaries. Apropos of the proposed investigation by the Medical Association of the District into the alleged imposition that is practiced by citizens upon the dispensaries of the city, the superintendent of charities today sent a circular letter to each one of the insti-a circular letter to each one of the insti-tutions, setting forth:

"Cases of suspected imposture in dispen-sary service will be promptly investigated if reported by mail or by telephone to the superintendent of charities. Name and res-idence of applicant being stated, the requisite information can be furnished before the next succeeding clinic to which the case has been assigned."

Superintendent Tracey, in discussing the matter with a reporter of The Star, said:

"I have no doubt that there have been cases of imposition practiced in some instances in some of the dispensaries of the city. It has been the custom for this office to investigate such cases, and when they are reported no time is lost in getting the necessary data. In the service of the relief of the poor cases of suspected imposition were always referred to this office and investigated. There is no reason why the same rule does not apply to the matter of dispensary patients, and, as the circular states, this office will promptly investigate any suspected cases."

Circulars were sent to the Central, Eastern and Woman's dispensaries and the dis-pensaries attached to Freedman's, Colum-bia, Washington Asylum and Homeopathic bia, Wasin. Hospitals.
